ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Just like every auspicious occasion cannot start without chanting names of God, same way I could not have started this thesis without gratefully acknowledging the enthusiastic supervision of my mentors Prof. (Dr.) Dimple Juneja, Professor and Principal, Maharishi Markendeshwar Institute of Computer Technology and Business Management, M.M. University, Mullana & Prof. (Dr.) A.K.Sharma, Professor and Dean, Faculty of Engineering, YMCA University of Science and Technology, Faridabad.

With my head bowed down in respect I acknowledge their Godly influence on my life and for exploring the unrevealed potential of mine, considering me sincere and capable enough to carry out this research work. I would like to thanks Dr. Juneja for her constant inspiration and keen interest in my work, for encouraging me, and rectifying the mistakes which I had been doing during the course of my research. Just like the way a kid is taught to walk, talk and face this world, same way around I had been mentored by Dr. Juneja during every stage of my research work. At times I stumbled upon big obstacles, at times I decided not to walk any further, but every time her constant motivation, support and encouragement gave me the strength to look further and keep sailing through tough times. I would not have reached this stage had not been there regular sweet scolding from her end to finish off my assignments well in time. Words are not enough to express my deep sense of gratitude for their all time availability, invaluable guidance, worthy suggestions, constructive criticism and steadfast commitment for the completion of this work.

Not to forget over here my dear and respected father Sh. K.C. Sharma, who more than a father had been a friend to me. It always had been his dream to see me become a Doctorate. I know he won’t be able to see me in that black robe, but right there from skies he would be smiling profoundly. I Miss You Dad, and hope you had been there with me while I completed this journey.

Also heartfelt thanks to my Dadaji, Dadiji, Mother, Brother and Bhabhi ji for constant support and encouragement throughout.

Words are not enough to express my thanks to my better half Ranjana, for tolerating me whenever I had been annoyed or angry while working. Without her support it would have been more difficult to accomplish this task.

Lots of love to my cute little daughter Siya, who had been a source of ever-ending inspiration to me. Though too young; she always motivated me to do my Home Work well in time. Thanks to her patience I was able to complete it; though at times depriving her of some childhood pleasures, she should have enjoyed.

Last but not the least I am thankful to God for making things possible at the right time always.

-- ATUL --