ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis would have not been possible without the supreme guidance of Dr.A.H.Chachadi, my Research Guide. Professor in Management and Dean, Department of Management Studies, Kousali Institute of Management Studies, Karnataka University, Dharwad. I owe a lot to him for the initial inspiration and direction towards the topic for this study coupled with his advice, supervision and encouragement. He has patiently read successive versions of this work and provided suggestions, reflections and guidelines that have helped a lot throughout the whole learning process. He allowed me to form my own opinions, while always providing valuable insights and helpful pointers that were highly instrumental to the successful completion of this thesis.

I wish to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to all the following for their valuable comments, support and encouragement: Dr.M.S.Subhas, Professor in Management, Kousali Institute of Management Studies, Karnataka University, Dharwad, Management and Staff at Global Business School [GBS], Hubli, Dr.S.S.Hugar, Professor, Department of Commerce, Karnataka University, Dharwad, Dr.Sachin.Kamble, Assistant professor, NITIE, Mumbai, Shri.Gururaj.Kidiyoor, Associate Professor, T.A.Pai Management Institute, Manipal, Dr.Vibhavari.Kulkarni (Patil), H.O.D., P.G.Centre in English, J.S.S.College, Dharwad, Secretary, North Karnataka Management Association [NKMA], Hubli.
Managers of KSFC and DIC, and all the owner-managers of Small and Medium Enterprises who participated in this study.

I wholeheartedly acknowledge the support offered by Shri. Nemichand Jain and Mr. Ankesh Jain, Directors of M/s Hubli Organic Oils and Chemicals (P) Ltd., Hubli by permitting me to conduct Action Research in their organization. The unstinted cooperation extended by them on various aspects during the course of Action Research is highly appreciated which enabled me to arrive at some important conclusions in the course of the study.

The support of my parents, my wife Rashmi and my sons Rohit and Raghav during the entire tenure of my research was tremendous. They were instrumental in keeping my enthusiasm alive, constantly reminding me of my deadlines and also sacrificing a lot of things even for themselves so that I could remain focused on my research. I am highly indebted to them for all their moral support and belief they had about my successful completion of the thesis.

Prashant V. Yatgiri