

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. Bharti.A.Patwardhan, my guide, who has been a source of inspiration. Her scholarly advice, constant encouragement, patience, perseverance and attention to detail during the entire process of work has been instrumental in enabling me to realize this research endeavor.

I wish to express my gratitude to Dr. Shobha Udipi, Director, and Department of P.G.S.R. in Home Science, S.N.D.T. Women's University for her encouragement and cooperation during the period of my study.

I am grateful to the library staff of S.N.D.T. Women's University, Pune and Mumbai, M.S.University, Baroda for making all the reading materials available for my reference.

My grateful thanks to Dr.Anjali Karolia, of M.S.University Baroda for all the help and encouragement that she has given me. I would also like to thank Rachna Viswanathan for the help she has always extended. Babu for all the help in formatting my thesis. Thanks to Mallika, Neha Lohia and Dr.Sharma for the invaluable help given to me in data analysis.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all the respondents from different cities, for taking time from their schedule and participating in this study with patience and interest. Without their involvement, this study would not have been possible.

My sincere gratitude to friends like Meera Gupta, who helped me to get the trousers made. I would also like to thank Sridhar who helped me to screen the respondents and Suhas Parab without whose help I would not have been able to do the measurement charts.

I would also like to thank the numerous people who have tried on the trousers and given me their feedback and encouragement.

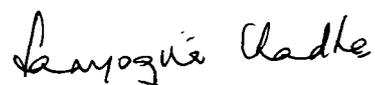

Gratitude to Reach Technologies, Shyam and Lingaraju for helping me with the nesting and grading of patterns.

I would like to thank Anil Patwardhan for the immense help he has extended by giving invaluable advice and suggestions as well as editing my work during the various stages of the study.

I also thank friends who have stood by me in this endeavor and who have made this dream a reality. Ronnie, for making me see this work in a different light and spirit.

I would like to thank my family for their patience, and for helping me through with this project by providing the ambience at home so that I could devote time to my work. Firstly I would like to thank my Father, Brig.N.S.P Iyer for the immense encouragement, moral support and emotional support that he has given me from the day I decided to do this project. My late mother, Mangalavalli Iyer, without whose constant encouragement and support throughout her life, this dream may not have materialized. Though she is not with us today, I am sure she would be really happy and proud to see the outcome of the work. My husband, Pawan, for the all the time encouraging me and pushing me to continue with this, even in the face of having to make difficult choices. He helped me to look beyond current troubles and take steps forward at times when my moral was flagging. My daughter Anvitaa, for being understanding while I worked and been a constant source of support and help. She has taken over my workload at home so that I could devote time and energy to my project. Last but not least of all I thank my maid Shashikala who has managed the house during my absence, while I was working or while traveling for the project. Without her a lot of the work may not have happened.

Above all I thank Sai Baba for his blessings and help throughout the duration of this project and always.
