It would not have been possible to write this thesis without the help and support of the kind people around me, to only some of whom it is possible to give particular mention here.

I extremely indebted to my principal supervisor Prof. D Narayana, it would not have been possible to complete this work without his help, support and patience. He has given full encouragement, inspiration, advice, suggestions and valid criticisms at all stages of my work. His commitment to academics was a tremendous source of inspiration for me. The good advice, support and suggestions of my second supervisor, Dr. Vijayamohanan Pillai, has been invaluable, for which I am extremely grateful.

The CDS faculty was instrumental in nurturing my research potential. I would like to acknowledge our coordinators Dr. U.S Mishra and Dr. Parameshwaran for their support during M.Phil course work at the centre. Interactions with Dr. Devika, Dr. Praveena, Dr. Pushpangadan, Dr. Mohanan Pillai and Dr.K. N Harilal at various occasions helped me tremendously.

I owe my deepest gratitude to M Vijayanad, who helped me to get data from the Department of Local Self Government. Discussion with Dr. Shaheena helped me in the initial stage of my dissertation.

The library facilities of the centre have been indispensable. I like to acknowledge CDS library staffs especially Anil sir, Anitha Madam, Ancy Madam, Shobachechi and Ameerka, for their whole hearted cooperation. I also thank Phil, Geethachechi and Syamalchechi for their support and assistance.

I greatly appreciate the diversity of ideas brought by my classmates which made for many happy moments and some confusions. I am grateful to my classmates, especially Sandhyachechi, Tanu, Saravana, Namratha, Asha, Sushma and Gurpreet for their cooperation and support. Alice, Neethi, Sumitha Aswathi, Kalyani, Kiran Lechitha, Justine, Sravanthi-Anirban, Uma and Vidya made research at CDS fruitful and enjoyable one. Also I acknowledge the cheerful company of my juniors Rahul, Mariamma, Kavitha, Izuddheen, Saritha, Sajitha and Siam. My well-wishers at CDS and outside encouraged me and enquired about my progress from time to time. I am grateful to all of them.

I am heartily thankful to my teacher, Harikurup, who guided me to the research field. His constant encouragement, support, love and care helped me in all stages of my studies. Many thanks to Nirmal for his kindness and generosity in reading and editing earlier draft of this thesis and for extending his cooperation and knowledge towards successful completion of this work. I would also like to thank my teachers Holla Sir and Suresh Babu for their concerns towards me. I have also benefited from the company of Suma, Kunhi, and Shyjan.

Special thanks to Arun for his unfailing support to Sruthi for her treasured camaraderie, and for always reminding me to look beyond obvious.....to Soumya for her affable company.....and to Chinju for her countless ways of showing affection.....

I affectionately acknowledge and remain indebted to my parents and family members for their unconditional love and support.
