ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Uppermost in my mind, I have an immense sense of gratitude towards Dr. M.C. Dixit, M.A., M.Com., Ph.D., who has been not only my guide but a friend and philosopher too. But for his accurate insight, untiring support and unmistakable acumen for academic pursuit, this work would not have seen the light of the day. I am greatly indebted to Shri Amarnath G Sule, Consulting Statistician, who not only provided technical assistance in analysing the data but, in fact, helped me throughout in the presentation of the data and inferences as well. Shri P.A. Misal of the Prof. V.G. Kale Library of the Bank of Maharashtra (Lokamangal) has helped me so much in providing references that my appreciation of his friendly help would always be an understatement. My thanks are also due to Dr. S.G. Mahajan and Shri Frabhaka Swamy of the Jaykar Library of the University and Shri E.G. Bapat and his colleagues of the Modern College Library.

For collection of statistical data and other information, I had to contact again and again, scores of small industrialists. A number of friends in academic and industrial sectors helped me in establishing these contacts. Due to the confidential nature of the subject and relevant data, all of them prefer to remain anonymous. I most sincerely remain under their obligation.
My Publisher-friend, Shri Dineshbhai Furia, rendered xeroxing and other related services. Miss Surekha B Charholikar did the accurate typing. I am thankful to them.

In a work like this, one has to take help from innumerable persons in various capacities. I am grateful to all of them.

PUNE

25th December, 1989