ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Traditionally the study of Indian Philosophy prays to the Supernatural mystic forces and incomprehensible and perplexing quiet while moving from darkness of ignorance towards light and brightness of knowledge. Ignorance is the state of darkness in the absence of knowledge. From which man nurtures a desire to go into the light of knowledge and prays to the Sovereign Peace for guiding him from darkness towards light, from ignorance towards knowledge and from Death towards Elixir.

Education and Research are both a kind of penance, accomplishment and great offering which has as its foundation the blessings of elders, teachers and reverent persons.

In this research titled, “A STUDY OF SOCIOLOGICAL ASPECT OF FARMER’S FAMILY BENEFICIARIES OF WATERSHED DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME.” I first and foremost thank the 400 respondents who were an essential part of this study which could not have been completed successfully without their full hearted support. Whenever I approached them with the request to fill in the interview schedules, they have always been welcoming even they would be sometimes hard pressed for time and given their total support in this exercise. To fill up all these questionnaires in such a short time would have been a very daunting task if not for their unflinching enthusiasm and it has contributed greatly to the study’s success. Thus I thank all the respondents of the various villages from the bottom of my heart.

I shall forever remain indebted to my research guide, Dr R.H. Makwana, Professor of Sociology Dept, S.P. University, Vallabh Vidyanagar. He stood beside me like a pillar of strength at each and every step of the research process and given a new dimension for the research findings. He has given me lots of invaluable tips and guidance at each step of my research especially when I was facing some difficulties. He has been instrumental in polishing refining my thesis work. I once again thank him from the bottom of my heart.

In order that this research moves ahead, other people who have truly been remarkable in their support, motivation, warmth, understanding, energy and enthusiasm towards this research are my parents, in laws, brothers, sisters and all other family members. I thank them and also bow to them in gratitude.

I also would like to express my heart- felt thanks to Mr Bhavinbhai Bhut, Coordinator, Professor Academy, Keshod and Mr Yogeshbhai Kindarkediya, Faculty Member for making very good typing notes of the material. I would also like to thank Ms Vaishali Ajmera from Ahmedabad who translated the thesis from Gujarati to English.

I shall forever be indebted to the revolutionary all teachers of Shri krantiguru Shyamji Krishna Verma kutchchh university, who gave me immense help and contribution during the course of this study. I cannot ever forget the truly remarkable assistance given to me for conducting this study by the Registrar of Kutch University, Administrative staff, Librarian and other staff in the library, all professors from the Sociology department and Shri Mukesh Prajapati from the Social work department.

In the course of research, I have referred to many material sources and books and in this regard, I would like to thank all of those writers, researchers, social agencies and various friends who helped me in my quench for knowledge. I will always remain deeply obliged to all of them. I express my thanks to all those who either directly or indirectly helped in my research.

And last but not the least, I would love to express my gratitude to my family members especially my wife Kanchan, who stood with me through-out my research phase, motivated me and to my daughter Surabhi as well as son Pinak.
