Acknowledgement

I owe a debt of gratitude to many people who have supported and helped me during the research. I am fortunate to have an able and understanding supervisor, Dr. Rintluanga Pachuau. I sincerely appreciated his critical comments and guidance. I am also grateful to our present head of department, Prof. Girindra Kumar for giving valuable feedbacks.

I am really thankful to Prof. Thomas Maloutas, Professor of Social Geography, Harokopio University and Director, Institute of Urban and Rural Sociology, National Centre for Social Research, Athens, Greece. I have greatly benefitted his valuable suggestions. I am also indebted to Prof. Lalfamkima Varte, Department of Psychology, Mizoram University for the valuable feedback I have received from him on the statistical techniques.

My students at Department of Geography & RM, Mizoram University undertook most of the task of collection of data. Without their help, it would almost be impossible to complete a thousand of schedules of five pages each. My student Vanlaltanpuia has enlightened me on the use of GIS softwares for mapping purpose. I am grateful to all of them.

To my old colleagues at Government Saitual College, I always cherish your understanding and companionship I have received at the beginning of my study. I would also like to appreciate the support I have received from my colleagues at Department of Geography & RM, Mizoram University.

I have been blessed with a loving family who has supported me throughout the study. My five year old son Jonathan Lalpekhluia has been growing up with this research. His sister Celina Sailopari has recently celebrated her first birthday. Without the patience and support my wife Rosy Lalbuatsaihi, this thesis might not be completed. My father Lalkungpuia Sailo and mother Ngurhmingthangi have been constant sources of motivation throughout my career. My younger brothers and sister have been making my life easier in many ways.

Lastly, I am thankful that God has given me the opportunity and strength to accomplish this study.
