Acknowledgement

Let me express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Varghese C. Abraham for his knowledge, commitment and perfectionism in the fine chiselling of my wild and wide queries, extending them to evolve into a thesis. Without the bountiful treasure house of his e book collection and his meticulous supervision I would never have crossed the finishing line on time.

For the privilege of granting me F I P deputation for the completion of the thesis, I extend my gratitude to UGC and the former principal of Govt. College, Thripunithura Prof. Aleysubha M.V.

I am deeply indebted to my fellow researchers and friends Lakshmi S., Rakesh C. Jose, Roshni S., Shibu P.V, Binuja Joseph and Madhu V. for their sustained camaraderie in sharing the umpteen moments of intellectual and emotional turbulence during my strenuous days of completing the thesis.

I would like to place on record my thanks to the Librarians and staff of General library and Department Library, Maharaja’s College, Ernakulam, Government College, Thripunithura and Ernakulam Public Library for their cordiality in giving me cooling coverts in this race along a sunlit path.

I also express thanks to Sri. N. F. Jose who patiently edited and formatted the thesis.

Special acknowledgements are due to my friends and colleagues Saritha K.V., Rekha M., Sameera Rajan, Rekha E., Anitha S. and Bindu Mathew who fuelled me with their care and sisterhood.
To my soul sister Bindu Jamal and close companions Priya Jose and Milon Franz I owe a lot.

My family has been my motivation and support and I remember them with gratitude. My husband Sasikumar has always encouraged my academic pursuits and my daughter Nila has shown immense maturity in adjusting with the hectic schedule of her mother.

My father Sri. T.N. Velayudhan and my brother T.V. Sajeev have always been my wellspring of inspiration. Words cannot express my indebtedness to them.

Finally, I bow before the memory of my mother and muse Smt. V.N. Rethnamma and Niyath who from heaven shower blessings on me.
