I raise my head in gratitude to God Almighty, my Strength and Stronghold for His abiding presence and divine interference in my academic pursuit. As Paulo Coelho says, 'When you want something all the universe conspires in helping you to achieve it'. In fact many have contributed their time and talent in the successful completion of this doctoral research.

My heart goes out in gratitude to Dr B. Johnson, Associate Professor, Department of Commerce and Management Studies, University of Calicut, who served as my Supervising Teacher with his calibre, patience, encouragement and inspiration, granting me the needed academic freedom to express my views without compromising on anything that would affect the genuineness of my research. Mention has to be made of his unfailing interest, commitment, meticulous correction of the draft and creative suggestions, I am indebted to him for the motivation and the confidence he infused in me to present and publish research papers at the International and National levels.

I am obliged to Dr. Sherly Kurian, Principal ,K.G.College, Pampady, Dr. Manu Oommen and Dr. M.E Kuriakose, former Principals, Dr. Mini Joseph Head of the Department of Commerce, Dr. J. Nalini, Coordinator of the Research Centre and other faculty members of Research and Post Graduate Department of Commerce, for sharing their valuable time and insights and the administrative staff who co-operated with me in carrying out the documentation of my FDP.

Thanks is due to University Grant Commission for awarding FDP to pursue the research on a full time basis, to Rev. Sr. Philo Puthenpura, the Manager of St. Joseph's College for Women, Alappuzha, during my tenure as research scholar and the present Manager Rev. Sr. Margaret Peter and Dr. Sr. Janat Augustine, the Principal for permitting and encouraging me in my academic pursuit, to the administrative staff of St. Joseph's College for their timely assistance in all official communications with various authorities.

I acknowledge and appreciate the sincere help received from the librarians of IIM-Kozhikode, Centre for Development Studies, Ulloor, University of Kerala, Centre for Fisheries Studies, Thiruvananthapuram and SIFFs Karamana, officials of the Department of Fisheries, Matsyafed and Matsyaboard at State and District level for providing the data pertaining to marine fisher households, RBI, officials in Regional Office, TVM and Lead Bank Manager, Alappuzha for the interest and timely assistance offered.

Words fail to express my love and gratitude Rev. Sr. Gertrude Michael, Provincial of Canossian Daughters of Charity, Province of Mary Immaculate, South India and her councillors for granting me this opportunity to undertake research, all Superiors and sisters of St. Michael's Convent, Cherthala, St. Joseph's Convent Alappuzha, Fathima Convent, Thumba, Canossa Convent, Alappuzha, the entire Canossian family, friends who supported me in this three year long journey particularly, Rev. Srs. Nancy Vaz, my spiritual mentor, Teresa Chacko, Mary Ann, Stella Symanty and Delphi Joseph.

Rev. Dr Joshi Mayyattil, my cousin needs special mention for his regular queries about the progress of my work which helped me a lot to maintain a steady pace during my study. I place on record my indebtedness to Rev. Dr Yesudas Kattunkalthayyil, Rev. Fr Siju Job, Ex-Directors, Alleppey Diocesan Charitable & Welfare Society, and Rev. Fr Mathias O, Executive Secretary Fisheries Forum, Centre for Fisheries Studies, Thiruvananthapuram and Mr. T Peter, President of Kerala Swathantra Matsya Thozhilali Federation for having shared with me their insights, experiences and exposure with the fisher folk which served as an orientation to proceed in the right direction.

I remember with love Dr. Rita Latha D'Couto, Head of the Department of Commerce, Dr. Suleena V.S and Ms. Jini Mathew for their interest and support in my research work. Asst. Prof. Vinesh Ottuparammal, Govt. College, Malappuram, shall be remembered for sharing the aches and pangs and joys of research work. An extra special thank you to my father, mother and dear ones at home for their prayers, and incessant help in collecting data and needed articles.
