I pay my sincere and heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor and guide Dr. H. K. Nagaraja, Adjunct Professor, NLSIU, Bangalore for his constant support and invaluable guidance throughout my research work to bring out this thesis in the shape the way it is today. He allowed me to struggle when doing so led to learning a valuable lesson, and were there to provide ‘constructive feedback’ when I needed it. Sir, I acknowledge that without you, my research would never have been possible.

I thank Prof. (Dr.) T.V. Subba Rao, for his guidance in adopting and fine-tuning appropriate research methods for my work and Prof. (Dr) S. Japhet for his guidance in advancing my research work during my mandatory residency period at the University. I remain grateful to Prof. (Dr) R. Venkata Rao, Vice-Chancellor, National Law School of India University, Bangalore for his special attention and support for PhD scholars at the University. My thanks are also due to Prof. (Dr) O.V. Nandimath, Prof. (Dr) M.K. Ramesh, and Prof. (Dr) T. Ramakrishna for their encouragements and support that facilitated the completion of my research. I could not thank enough the support provided to me by law school staff, especially Ms. Padmavathi Munivenkatappa, Mr. Umesh Puttu, and the library staff at the Law School, in particular, Mr. K.S. Madhu, Mr. R S Kumbar, Mr. Ramesh Kumar and the librarian Late Mr. C.U. Navalgund for helping me in getting to the books, reports, journals, and in doing photo-copy of the study materials and references in the huge and resourceful National Law Library.

I owe a special thanks and my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. (Dr.) V. Vijaykumar and Prof. T. Devidas, whose inspiration led me to pursue research studies after my LL.M in 2007. As always has been the case since my LL.M days, their words of advice on the topic of research helped me to formulate my arguments and propelled me in the right direction.

* Om, (O Lord) Keep me not in the Unreality (of the bondage of the Phenomenal World), but lead me towards the Reality (of the Eternal Self), (O Lord) Keep me not in the Darkness (of Ignorance), but lead me towards the Light (of Spiritual Knowledge).
I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. Yogesh Pratap Singh, who by all means is a true friend, philosopher and guide. He remained a constant source of inspiration and my timekeeper always pushing me for completing my work. His suggestions on the style of writing, stating problems, expressing arguments and interpreting facts and data have helped me immensely. Brother, this research without you would have been difficult and arduous.

I would like to make a special mention of my mentors Prof. K Srinath Reddy, President, Public Health Foundation of India and Dr. Monika Arora, Executive Director, HRIDAY, for their constant support and guidance all through the course of my work. Special mention is also due to Dr. Mira Aghi for her constant enquiry on the progress of my work and her encouragements to complete it. I was humbled in the course of my research by the interest and encouragement of my friends and colleagues at HRIDAY, PHFI and FCA to whom I have offered little in return. In particular, I thank Subodh Patil, Andleep Tiwari, Jitesh Shrivastav, Raghav Kavimandan Ganesh, Ngursangzuali Sailo, Sophia Verghese, Ajay Rai, Amit Tripathi, Lokesh Chaudhary, Pramod Dwivedi, Vijay Krishna Pathak, Vijay Tripathi, Vivek Tripathi, Murli Manohar, Gaurang Nazar, Nikunj Sharma, Vinay Gupta, Abhinav Bassi, Manjusha Chatterjee, Amrita Bahl, Urvashi Kaushik, Swati Parmar, Gautam Sikri, Yvona Tous, Jonathan Liberman, Ben McGrady, Alice Grainger Gasser, Nathan Grills, and in general to all others. Friends, I would love to reciprocate the same courtesy whenever it is required. I am also thankful to my friends who joined me in this pursuit of knowledge at the same time at NLSIU, Bangalore, for their support and encouragements during the course work and my stay at the Law School.

I express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my grand-father and my grand-mother, whose dream has always been to see their grandchildren at the zenith of success. Unfortunately, I was left with a sense of emptiness during this journey when my grand-father on 24th June, 2014 and my grand-mother on 30th May 2015 left for the heavenly abode.

I would like to thank my parents for their sacrifices which they have made to bring me here. My father, Mr. Amrit Lal Yadav, would always push me ahead to pursue higher studies reminding me, "कर्मणये वाधिकारस्ते मा फलेशु कदाचन, मा कर्मानहेतुमेव माते संयोगस्तवकर्मणि"*, in living by his own example. Daddy, I owe this work to you and all that I have today is because of you. I thank my elder brother Atul Yadav for being my greatest pillar of support, my greatest critique and admirer and my younger brother Abhay Yadav for his constant encouragement and support to complete the thesis. In the course of my research, there were times when I felt dejected and elated, but it was only him who gave me support when required and ensured that I finish the work. Thank you Abhay! I owe special thanks to Ritanjali Yadav, Monica Yadav, Ansh Yadav and Arv Yadav, for their invaluable support throughout. I thank my family including Ganga Prasad Yadav, Neeraj Yadav, Purnima Yadav, Shweta Singh, Utkarsh Yadav, Aakash Yadav, Shobhit Singh, Nidhi Yadav, Vibhu Yadav, Darsh Yadav and Plaksha Yadav for their support throughout.

I am most grateful and indebted to my beloved wife Maanvi Nisha Yadav, whose encouragement, support, love, care and affection kept me going when I felt the going was getting tough. Thank you, my love, for being there with me, always with a smile, in my most troubled days. Last, but by no means least, my daughter Anwita, who would happily allow me to go to ‘college’ for my course requirements and in doing so sacrificed her precious time that she would have spent with her father. She merits special mention for her greatest contribution in this entire journey. This would not have been possible without you My Darling!

I remain indebted to all of you!

For any errors or inadequacies that may remain in this work, of course, the responsibility is entirely my own.

Mr. Amit Yadav
