

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The individual to whom I owe the greatest debt for making this thesis possible is my research supervisor Dr. S. Aruchamy, Professor, Department of Geography, Bharathidasan University. He was the person who read every word in every draft- a task he volunteered with unflagging good cheer and enthusiasm and rearranged the text to create a more focused and usable document and invariably had excellent suggestions for improving the flow of ideas and sharpening throughout my work.

Then I would like to thank to our Head of Department Prof. K. Kumaraswamy, Prof. A. Ganesh, Chair, and Mr. R. Jegankumar Assistant Professor and that have contributed to making all of these years here at the Bharathidasan University department of Geography, School of Geosciences very memorable and educational.

I especially would like to mention, Dr. N. Jawahar Raj, Assistant Professor in Geology, National College, Tiruchirappalli., who gave me great support throughout my research work. I thank to Dr. B. Gobu, Assistant Professor., Govt., Arts College., Kumbakonam., for his immense help to understand of land evaluation procedures. I would like to thank my colleagues Mr. K. Banukumar, Assistant Professor., Govt., Arts College., Kumbakonam time being helpful and fruitful tips about the research.

Further, I extended to my heartfelt thanks to Ms. Umamathi, as one of my research colleagues for her editorial work and typing manuscript of the thesis.

I express my sincere thanks to all the Research Scholars and M. Phil., M. Tech., M. Sc., students, of Geography Department, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirppalli for their help during the course of this thesis preparation.

I acknowledge with a deep sense of gratitude the following agencies for providing data and relevant documentary sources in the form of maps and reports. Soil Survey and Land use organization, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu Forest Department and Census Operations of India.

I thank Mr. R. Karvananan, Technical officer, Department of Geography, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli for his valuable help related with books and research references.

And Non-teaching staff, Department of Geography, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli for their valuable help related with officials.

I express thank to Dr. A. Ilanthirayan Assistant Professor, Govt., Arts College., Karur for his valuable help in the field trips on the study area and thank to my young brothers A. Dwaraganathan, A. Ramachandran and A. Jeganathan has to help me for the work of at remote and inaccessible area.

Last but not the least, I express my sincere thank to my father S. Arumugam Achari, my mother S. Santhal for their patience, endurance, encouraging words and able support during the entire course of my research.

I thank to my father in law Mr. M. M. Subramanian and mother in law S. Karpagachndra and my beloved brother in law S. S. Prassanna whose efforts, endurance, encouraging words made this research work.

Finally, I would like to thank my wife S. Sreedevi for an amazing patience and moral help.

(MUTHUKRISHNAN. A.,)