ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the end of this journey, it is a joy to acknowledge the friendship and intellectual support of many people, without whom this dissertation would not have been possible. My sincere thanks to all those who are directly and indirectly responsible for the completion of this work.

I, first of all, would like to thank God for being with me all through this journey. I thank the Almighty for giving me the opportunity to join the PhD course at the EFL-University, Hyderabad. I am also thankful to Him for his grace in keeping circumstances favourable so that I could devote myself wholeheartedly to this endeavour.

Next to the Almighty, is my Guru, my ideal, my supervisor Dr. T. Samson. Without his insightful instructions and encouragement, this dissertation would not have reached a conclusive point. I am particularly indebted to him for reposing faith in me, making me realize that 'I am capable'. Despite his busy official responsibilities, he always welcomed me and listened to my babble with unlimited patience. My greatest debt is undoubtedly to him for the guidance and help, both modes, face-to-face and online, he has given me throughout my study. Dr. Samson was very kind whenever I approached him with academic and administrative hiccups. Indeed, it has been very educative to work with someone like Dr. Samson who is helpful, articulate, and accessible. His vigilante support and patient explanations will always remain invaluable for me.

I am also profoundly grateful to Dr. K. Prakash Reddy for his valuable advice. Thanks are due to him for his encouragement and help whenever I approached him for administrative issues.

I express my thanks to all EFL-U teachers, and library Staff for their cooperation in all possible ways during the course of my study.
My gratitude goes to my sponsoring institution; Ibb University, Yemen, with especial thanks to Mr. Abdulmalik Al-Saggaf, the Secretary General of Ibb University, who is always ready to help whenever I approach him. I wish also to thank the staff of English Department, Faculty of Education Al-Naderah, Ibb University, Yemen, generally and the Head of the Department, Prof. Qaid Dabwan and Dr. Ibrahim Tajaldeen, my internal supervisor in Ibb University, Yemen, in particular. Dr. Ibrahim was a great source of help when I travelled to Yemen to visit some well-known libraries to collect some Arabic references and books that were not available in India.

A word of especial thanks goes to Dr. Fatima Al-Inbari, who readily accepted to read and proofread my work. Her feedback is very precious.

My sincere thanks go to the following friends and colleagues who were very kind to proofread my work; Dr Tawfiq Thabet, for reading chapter one; Dr. Fawwaz An-nashef for reading chapter two; Dr. Haithem Abdulla for reading chapter three; Hassan Said for reading chapter four, Waddah Saleh for reading chapter five. My hearty thanks to my close friend Abdullah Khalil for repairing and formatting my computer whenever I approach him. Your assistance and nice company will never be forgotten.

I extend my thanks to another group of friends: Sameer Al-Samadi, Maged Alguheef, Osman Mehdar, Yassir Sharafi, Amin Al-Sloflel, Mohammed Al-Humidy, Rafeeq Al-Eryani, Ali
Al-Zuhiry, Mohammed Alhebb, Fadhl Qutaish, Saif Bareq, Hamdi Salam, Ali Al-Saydi, Hesham Al-Mukhlafi, Abdulgader El-emad, Fawwaz Rageh, Mohammed Al-Khulidi, Khalid Al-Nuzily, Abdullah Alhoriby, Saleh Sharkheh, Hammed Al-Mamgrami, and many others for their encouragement and moral support. Thanks are also due to Hyderabad to have privileged me with such wonderful company.

True friends have also been all around me despite the distance. Thanks to the administrative at the Ministry of Finance, Yemen, Rasheed Mosleh, for following up and facilitating any administrative or financial issues related to my scholarship; to Waleed Al-Dubily for the unlimited services he rendered to me and to my mother; to Dr. Ali Shahrah for the many valuable gifts he sent from Yemen; to Ibrahim Al-Moshnanh, my friend in Egypt, for purchasing and posting me the novel Love in the Time of Globalization; to Jameel Elayah who has never spared efforts to extend hand to me and kept in contact with me particularly at critical moments. I am deeply thankful to one and all and wish them all success.

I extend deep appreciation to my close family for their sincere love, support, and encouragement. To my father whose untimely death left a ‘circuit shaped hole’ in my heart. Your Du’a (prayer) and love towards me and all the family members will never be forgotten. We love you and miss you. To the candle who burns herself to illuminate my life, mama. No poetry can express my love, indebtedness, and gratitude towards you. Your ever-present support, ceaseless hot tears, and ceaseless prayers motivate every step in my life. Thank you mother for visiting me to Hyderabad. So, I must thank you first, thank you, mama. My deep thanks to my brother (Abdu) and sisters for their encouragement and support. Thanks to all of you for taking care of my mother. Without your cooperation, encouragement, and understanding of my circumstances, this work would not have been materialized.

I owe a lot to my extended family in Yemen: my mother in-law and my sister in-law who would be glad and relieved that I finally managed completing this dissertation. I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to them for the tangible and intangible help they always offer. Their kindness, prayers, and ever-present concern are highly appreciated.

My unconditionally loving wife is the pillar of my strength and a companion of my dreams. The best part of our journey together is her constant encouragement to my academic endeavours. I am grateful to her for bearing with me as I immersed myself in researching and writing and for her patience with my reclusive tendencies during this time. She provided me with all kind of support that cannot be described in words and ensured that I was least disturbed. Especial thanks to her for her neat typing of some parts of this dissertation.

Last but not least, to all those whom I have not mentioned, just want to say that I am only human and what human is if I do not make mistakes. My invisible friends, I am eternally grateful for your presence in my life and work. It goes without saying that any errors or mistakes in this dissertation are mine alone.
