

VITA

The author Dr. Shirish Vinayakrao Upadhye born on 8th October 1968 at Akot Dist. Akola.

He completed his higher secondary education from Nagpur. He secured the B.V.Sc. & A.H. degree from Nagpur Veterinary College in First class with Distinction grade and bagged all the three medals awarded by Dr. P.D.K.V., Akola for securing highest position in order of merit. Thereafter he completed his post-graduation in Veterinary Surgery & Radiology from Bombay Veterinary College, Mumbai in First class with Distinction grade in the year 1993. He was awarded ICAR Junior Research Fellowship and ranked first in the competitive examination conducted by the ICAR, New Delhi at National level. He was also awarded CSIR Senior Fellowship in the year 1993 for further studies.

After completion of education, the author was selected to the post of Livestock Development Officer, Class II, Gazetted, in the Department of Animal Husbandry, M.S. through the M.P.S.C. and served the state department for about 4 years. Thereafter he joined the University services in the year 1996 and since then he has worked on various positions such as Assistant Professor of Veterinary Science, Officer In-charge, Maharajbag Zoo, Surgeon, Technical Officer to Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor and Assistant Professor, Veterinary Surgery & Radiology.

He is the Principal Investigator of an ICAR ad-hoc research scheme of three years duration entitled 'Studies on Venereal Granuloma in Canines' w.e.f. 9th January 2006.

The author has published 45 clinical articles, 10 popular articles and presented about 15 radio and TV programmes. He has been awarded 5 medals, 2 fellowships, 1 scholarship and recognition from various societies for his contribution in the field of Veterinary Science.

The author is presently working as an Assistant Professor of Veterinary Surgery and Radiology, Nagpur Veterinary College and Technical Officer to Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, MAFSU, Nagpur.