

Acknowledgements

Writing this thesis has been very interesting and extremely rewarding experience for me. At this stage, let me take the opportunity and thank a number of people who have contributed to this work in many different ways:

To begin with, I pay my obeisance to GOD, the almighty to have bestowed upon me healthiness, courage, inspiration, zeal and the light. After GOD, I express my sincere and deepest gratitude to my supervisor, Prof. Kishore Kumar, Professor - Department of ESL studies, The English and Foreign Languages University, Hyderabad, who ploughed through several preliminary versions of my text, making critical suggestions and posing challenging questions. His expertise, invaluable guidance, constant encouragement, affectionate attitude, understanding, patience, and healthy criticism added considerably to my experience. Without his continual inspiration, it would have not been possible to complete this research work.

I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude and respectful regards to Prof. S. Mohanraj, Dr. Revathi Srinivas, and Dr. Anand Mahanand, for being my advisory committee members and providing me their constant support and constructive feedback during the course of entire study.

Similar profound gratitude goes to Prof. Malathi Krishnan, Prof. Prahalad, Prof. Paul Gunashekar, Prof. S. Upendran, Prof. Geetha Durairajan, Prof. Jayashree Mohanraj, Dr. Meera Srinivas, Dr. Lina Mukhopadhyay, Dr. Madhavi Gayathri Raman Dr. Kshema Jose, and Dr. Vijaya for making me aware of the vast knowledge in the field of English

Language Education. I would never forget the insightful discussions that we had during our coursework.

I owe my most sincere gratitude to Prof. Elaine K. Horwitz, Professor of Curriculum & Instruction, the University of Texas, Austin for her invaluable support and guidance for my research work.

I am immensely indebted to the Principal of the Junior college, teachers, and the participants of the study. Without their support and assistance, this journey would not have been possible.

I extend my thanks to the librarian of the English and Foreign Languages University, Hyderabad for supporting me during the course of entire study.

My special mention goes to Mss. Pallavi and Lakshmi the non-teaching staff of The School of ELE for their invaluable assistance during the course of entire study.

I sincerely admire the contribution of all my friends and classmates Vikas, Rukan, Tushar, Pankaj, Nitin, Pravin, Vasim, Vrishali, , Sunita, Jayanta, Clementine, Shrivasti, Sunama, Aditi, Remya, Shakul, Sunama, Barkha, Sandip Zinnia, Shrikant and Zareena for extending their unstinted support, timely motivation, sympathetic attitude and unfailing help during the course of entire study.

Last, but not the least, I feel a deep sense of gratitude to my father Nandkumar Dhumal, mother Vijaya Dhumal, two younger sisters Pallavi, Mohini and all my relatives for providing me constant encouragement, divine presence and supporting me spiritually throughout.
