Acknowledgements

This thesis would not have been completed but for the support of so many people and institutions who helped me in innumerable ways during my journey to complete the research to whom I owe a debt of gratitude.

At the outset, I would like to thank my grandfather at whose feet I learnt my Three R’s and my parents who are in their heavenly abode for inculcating in me the reading habit and encouraging me to seek knowledge on wide spectrum. Their words of wisdom still ring in my ears which have been a constant source of inspiration. I bow to them.

My thanks are due to the Indian Army, my regiment, The Fourth Gorkha Rifles and all the defence army institutions where I learnt principles of war, nuances of strategy and tactics and practiced the same in my battalions and the formations wherever I served. My thesis being a study on war history, army education and service helped me greatly.

I would like to place on record my deep gratitude to Prof. Sandip Basu Sarbadhikary, my supervisor whose motivation, constructive criticism and professional advice on viewing the subject objectively helped me in structuring the dissertation to its present shape. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank Dr. Bipasha Raha and all the academic staff of the Department of History, Visva-Bharati, Santiniketan, for their kind encouragement and valuable teachings during the ‘course work’ which enriched my knowledge and enhanced my interest in historical studies. My special thanks to Dr. Chhanda Chatterjee, for introducing me to the Institute of Historical Studies, Kolkata where I had opportunity to interact with many historians of repute. I also sincerely thank Dr. M.M. Mitra, Registrar Visva-Bharati for his advice and encouragement to undertake the doctoral research work under the aegis of Visva Bharati.

My thanks are due to Dr. Keka Datta Roy of Acharya Prafulla Chandra College Kolkata, who introduced me to Itihas Academy Dhaka. In Bangladesh, I am grateful to Dr. Samina Sultana, and Dr. Nazmun Nahar Laizu of Itihas Academy Dhaka for inviting me every year since 2012 to present papers in their annual seminars. I express my deep gratitude to Prof. Delwar Hossain of Dhaka University, Department of History for helping me establish contact with relevant people and Bangladesh Liberation War
Museum, Dhaka for my research work. I am also thankful to many in Bangladesh whose names find mention in the Bibliography.

I am grateful to Lt Gen JFR Jacob, Brig. RS Sodhi ,General Shankar Roy Chowdhury for sparing their valuable time in giving me oral interview. I would also like to thank Maj Gen P.K.Mallick and Brig. H.S. Nagra, for helping me with a few important research inputs. I also take this opportunity to convey my thanks to Mr. Ajai Chowdhry, Director IFS Academy, for arranging my access to MEA Archive. I am grateful to Col John H. Gill, of Washington National Defense University for allowing me to use couple of maps from his book Atlas of 1971 India –Pakistan War, and also sharing his insights.

I also take this opportunity to thank my fellow researcher Mr. Ambika Adhikary and my erstwhile colleagues , Mrs. Deblina Chatterjee and Mr. Sovon Bhattacharya for providing me administrative support. Thanks are also due to the non-teaching staff of the department of History, Visva-Bharati , who extended much courtesy to me by helping me occasionally with administrative support beyond the call of their duty.

In the end, I would like to convey my special thanks to my wife, Mrs. Bharati Batabyal, my daughters, Nayan and Kajal and my son-in-laws, Amritaputra and Soumya for their moral and material support. Thanks are also due to my entire family, my brothers, sisters, sisters in laws and my nephew Capt. Nilanjan Batabyal and nieces who were very supportive of my undertaking this project at this advanced stage of my life.

I am thankful to many institutions namely, National Library and Fort William Army Library Kolkata, Nehru Memorial Library and Museum New Delhi, Ministry of Defence Historical Division, MEA Archive, New Delhi to name a few. Names of many I am grateful to may not have figured here : they have contributed no less. Being fallible, there may be errors and omissions in my dissertation for which I am solely responsible.
