

Acknowledgement

It is indeed my proud privilege to express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my research guide Prof. Manoj Kumar Sinha, Director Indian Law Institute, for his guidance, supervision and intellectual support at every stage of my study which helped me to give shape to this thesis.

I take this opportunity to express my regards to Prof. Iswar P. Bhat, for his encouragement and guidance. I thank all colleagues in NUJS for their support and cooperation throughout the period of research. I also take this opportunity to thank Prof. M.P.Singh, Prof. N.R. Madhav Menon and all my esteemed professors and teacher for their blessings and inspiration for perusing serious academic research and writing.

I express special thanks to my students in NUJS, Department of Consumer Affairs, GOI, Prof. Suresh Mishra & Dr Sawpna Chadda of IIPA. Dr. Ashis Mukerjee of Kalyani University, Prof. Ashok R. Patil of NLSIU Bangalore for their co-operation and help. I am equally grateful to all respondents who had taken some time from their busy schedule to respond to the questionnaire circulated and provide their views which has been of invaluable importance to the research. I thanks staffs of NUJS, NLSIU and ILI Library for their co-operation and assistance.

Over and above all, I owe more than I could express my immense gratitude towards my parents Jayasri & Srideb Chakraborty and my in-laws Anjana & Abhijit Ghosh for their blessings, and my wife Ms Yashomati Ghosh for her love, encouragement and inspiration.

Finally I dedicate this dissertation to my Son Suryanshu Chakraborty who is my prime motivation in life.
