ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my special appreciation and thanks to my research supervisor Prof. Sanjay Zodpey, Vice President, Academics, Public Health Foundation of India and Director-Indian Institute of Public Health Delhi for his continued support and guidance for all these years from proposal development to the thesis writing stage in this study. I would like to thank you for encouraging my research and for allowing me to grow as a research scholar. Your advice on both research as well as on my career have been priceless. I am honored to have completed this research work under your guidance. My special words of thanks go to my colleague and mentor Dr. Himanshu Negandhi, Associate Professor, Indian Institute of Public Health - Delhi. This thesis would not have been possible without your strong support, guidance and co-operation. I would especially like to thank all the respondents who gave their valuable time and contribution to the thesis.

Further, my heartfelt appreciation for Dr. Abhay Saraf, Principal - Public Health, IQVIA, New Delhi for providing me significant inputs on public health education. I also wish to express my special gratitude for Dr. Preeti Negandhi, Associate Professor, Indian Institute of Public Health – Delhi, for guiding me to conduct in-depth interviews and focus group discussions with key stakeholders. I would also like to make a special mention of my dear friend and colleague Ms. Anjali Sharma, Senior Program Officer, E-Learning Programs, Public Health Foundation of India for significantly facilitating the Focus Group Discussions at Indian Institute of Public Health – Hyderabad, Bangalore Campus.

I also wish to express my special thanks to Dr. Vinay Kumar Rale, Professor and Director, Symbiosis School of Biological Sciences and Dr. Neetu Mishra, Associate Professor, Symbiosis School of Biological Sciences for their continuous guidance and moral support throughout the course duration. With deep gratitude, I appreciate and acknowledge the inputs and feedback provided by Prof. Sanjay D. Pohekar, Professor (Mechanical) and Head, Research Programs, Symbiosis Center for Research and Innovation, Symbiosis International (Deemed University). His inputs helped me in making this document more coherent and presentable.

I am greatly indebted to my father Mr. Ravi Tiwari who introduced me to the field of public health and convinced me to make a career in public health. I am thankful to my mother Mrs.
Asha Tiwari who took great efforts for my studies since my childhood and all along. Words cannot express how grateful I am to my parents-in law Mr. Hira Lal Bhardwaj and Mrs. Parvesh Bhardwaj for bearing me through the thick and thin of my Ph.D. tenure. If it wasn’t their support, co-operation and encouragement, this endeavor would not have been possible. I convey special acknowledgement to my brother Mr. Sahil Tiwari, for his timely help, which is to be greatly appreciated.

At the end I would like to express appreciation to my better half Mr. Manish Bhardwaj who has undertaken the journey of my Ph.D. with me and was always my support in the moments when there was no one to answer my queries. Finally, I cannot help but dedicate this thesis to my lovely daughter Aarya, as you provided the inspiration necessary for me to complete this process and also sacrificed immensely along the way!
