ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the process of completing the dissertation, there have been a great many people who inspired, encouraged and supported me. First of all, I am grateful to my Supervisor, Professor Venkata Raghotham, Department of History, Pondicherry University, to take me as his student. No words can express the deep debt of gratitude that I owe to him. He introduced me to the world of books and passion for history. His wide experience, unparalleled knowledge of global history, stimulating discussions and conscientious moral support helped me immensely in completing this work in time. It has been, indeed, a great privilege for me to be his student.

I express my sincere thanks to my Doctoral Committee members, Prof. B. Krishnamoorthi, Department of Political and International Studies, and Prof. G. Chandrika, Head of the Department, History, who have been always supportive to my work. I would like to thank the faculty members of the Department of History, Prof. K. Rajan, Dr. K. Venugopal Reddy, Dr. N. Chandramouli and Dr. Paokholal Haokip, who have been a source of encouragement and support during this research work.

I owe my sincere respect to my Sir, Dhrub Kumar Singh, Assistant Professor, Department of History, Banaras Hindu University. He has been an eternal source of motivation and inspiration since my Post-Graduates days. I am gratefully acknowledge Ashim Mukhopadyay, Assistant Library and Information Officer, National Library, Kolkata, and his support received during data collection trip.

Thanks are due to different archives and Libraries, which have consulted in the Course of research: National Library, Kolkata; National Archival of India, New Delhi; Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, New Delhi; Tamil Nadu State Archives, Chennai; Connemara Public Library, Chennai; Patna University Library, Patna; Khudabaksh Public Oriental Library, Patna; Banaras Hindu University Central library, Varanasi; Anand Ranga Pillai Library, Pondicherry; and the French Institute, Pondicherry. In the same breath, I appreciate all the Digital Libraries for their help.

I am very grateful to Mr. Kaliyaperumal, Office Manager; Mr. Jagjivan Ram, Mr. Bhaskaran and Mr. Manohar, Office Assistants, Department of History, Pondicherry university, for their support in all official matters. I humbly acknowledge the support of my senior and friends, Bithin Thakur bhaya, Jaya Prataban, and Sumit Ji.

Writing thesis has been a huge commitment not only for me but also for my entire family. I am in debt to my mother, father, sister didu, Bhaya, Sanu, Prakash bhaya and Pappu. Without their unconditional love and support I would not have reached this far.

Finally, my sincere thanks to those who have helped me directly and indirectly to complete this dissertation work.

Pranjali.
