Acknowledgements

It is my great privilege to record a deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. Subhas Chandra Mandal, Associate Professor, Department of Mathematics, Jadavpur University, for providing me a very helpful, untiring and invaluable guidance in every phase of the program without which completion of this work would not been possible.

I also acknowledge the help and support of the Head of the Department of Mathematics, Jadavpur University and other faculties and staff for extending me all facilities required to complete this work.

For kind cooperation to carry out my research work, I am grateful to the Dean, Head and other colleague of Department of Applied Sciences, Haldia Institute of Technology. I also wish to cordially acknowledge the help and support of all of my teachers, friends and well wishers for this work.

Last but not the least I would also like to express gratefulness to my parents, brother and sister for their constant inspiration and encouragement for doing this work mentally as well as technically where necessary.

SanjoyBasu