ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This study has been made possible due to support and co-operation of many. This research work would not have been completed without the exemplary commitment of my supervisor, Prof. (Mrs) Shashi Prabha Singh. I express my sincere gratitude to her, as she took a pioneering step in permitting me to venture into an unexplored area of research in LIS in India. The freedom she allowed me during the course of this study encouraged me to experiment with various research methods and frameworks. At the same time she guided me out of the web of confusions and kept me grounded in reality with her disciplined and pragmatic approach. I consider myself fortunate as the perfectionist in her continuously scrutinized my research outputs.

I am indebted to Dr. Paramjeet K. Walia, Head, and other faculty members of the department of LIS for immense support extended during the course of my research. The staff of CRL and the departmental library offered all possible assistance during the period of research.

I thank all the staff members of both NASSDOC and NCERT for extending whole hearted co-operation during the long research period. The professional staff happily replied to all my inane queries during unscheduled visits and over telephonic conversations.

There are several others who contributed in various ways in enabling me to steer through the research process. Discussions with Shri B. Guha (INSDOC, now NISCAIR), Smt. Kalpana Dasgupta (Member, National Knowledge Commission), Prof. C. P. Vashishth (Retd. Prof., University of Delhi) and Dr. P.R. Goswami (Central Secretariat) provided valuable insights to the ethos of the professionals across generations. I am thankful to Prof. Jaideep Sharma (IGNOU) for providing important references and Prof. J. Mitra (FMS, University of Delhi) for useful suggestions.

I could not have undertaken and completed this work without the whole-hearted support provided by my colleague, Dr. Sanjeev Kumar (NIFT), who willingly lightened the burden of official responsibilities during critical phases of this research. I am thankful to Shri Abhijeet Sinha, Ms. Tasneem Zia, Shri Sunil Prajapati and Ms. Minoo Lohani for helping me in various ways. The staff of DELNET led by Dr. Sangeeta Kaul deserves special mention for offering prompt services throughout the period of research.

Special thanks are due to Shri Suresh Jain who has helped me with great patience in formatting the final document.

Finally, few words for those to whom I owe my existence. My late mother, who taught me to think in an unconventional way and tread the unbeaten path. This research work has been completed due to continuous motivation and pragmatic advices of my father, Shri K. C. Dutt. My two nieces Ms. Ishani and Ms. Shravani provided enjoyable distractions during these hectic years. My husband, Prof. Jagpal Singh and son, Pradipta, provided continuous encouragement and freed me from all domestic responsibilities to pursue my research work.

Nandini Dutta