CHAPTER I. MALWA: GEOGRAPHICAL SETTING

Physical Setting - Topography: (1) Malwa Plateau Proper, (2) Vindhyan Range, (3) Narmada Valley; Drainage; Soils, Forest Cover, Mineral Resources; Climate - Temperature, Rainfall; Population and Settlement - Population distribution, Settlement Pattern - Towns, Rural Settlements; People; Economy - Agriculture, Industries.

CHAPTER II. HISTORY AND ITS IMPRINTS ON EVOLUTION OF TOWNS

Geographical factors influencing the history of Malwa, Historical Overview - Its Nomenclature; Ancient Period - From earliest times to the end of the 13th century A.D. - Pre-Muslim age; Medieval Period - 14th to 17th century A.D.: (a) Sultanate Period - 14th century (b) Muslim Period - 15th and the first half of the 16th century (c) Mughal Period - Later half of 16th and whole 17th century; Modern Period - 18th to the mid 20th century; Political set-up of Malwa: Historical factors behind its evolution; Political setup of Malwa: Its imprints upon the regional Urban Situation.

CHAPTER III. GROWTH OF TOWNS

Introduction; Parameters of Urban Growth - Population Size, Physical buildup, Functional Base, Hinterland; Measures of Population Growth; Regional Growth Trends of Urban Population, Growth of Rural Population, Number of towns, Average Size of Towns, Degree of Urbanization; Regional Pattern of Decennial Growth of Towns - 1901-1971; Factors Motivating Urban Growth; Trend of size class structure - 1901-71; Change in Size-class structure; Role of Growth and mobility of towns, 1961-71; Variation in the size-Ranks of Towns, 1901-71; Regionalisation of Urban Growth- Eastern Malwa, South-Central Malwa, North Western Malwa, Western-Central Malwa, South Western Malwa.

CHAPTER IV. MIGRATION AND URBANIZATION

CHAPTER V. LOCATIONAL ANALYSIS OF TOWNS

Introduction; Factors affecting location of towns—geographical factors, Historical factors; Life cycle of factors of location of towns; Locational types of towns—River side/River crossing location, River confluence head location, strategic defensive Location, Central or Route-nodal location, Lake-side location.

CHAPTER VI. DISTRIBUTION OF TOWNS; SIZE AND SPACING

Introduction; Distribution and spacing of towns—Search for a Method; Town-spacing characteristics of Malwa, Spatial variation in spacing of towns, spacing of towns; Nearest neighbour analysis, Relation between size and spacing of towns, Size-class-wise spacing of towns; Regionalisation of spacing of towns; A. Western Malwa (1) South-western zone, (2) Northwestern zone (3) Central zone (4) Eastern zone, B. Eastern Malwa—(1) Northern zone (2) Southern zone; Factors Determining the spacing of Towns; Size Relation of Towns— the Rank size Relationship.
CHAPTER VII. FUNCTIONAL STRUCTURE OF TOWNS

Purpose and Significance: Methodological overview, The Present method, Formula for Functional specialization index; Selection of functions; Pattern of functional specialization- Trade and Commerce, Services, Household industries, Manufacturing industries, Transport storage and communication, Construction, Primary production; Summary remarks on characteristics of functions; Functional association and classification of towns; Functional structure and size-classes of towns; Change in Functional structure and the Growth of towns, 1961-71; changes in functional structure and growth of towns 1961-71.

CHAPTER VIII. SOCIO-ECONOMIC CHARACTERISTICS OF TOWNS

SEX RATIO- Significance, Patterns of sex ratio- Rural sex ratio, Sex ratio in towns, Rural urban differential of sex ratio, Variation in sex ratio by age-groups; A Comparison of rural and urban trends, Functional character and sex ratio of towns; Trend of sex ratio, 1901-71, Size class wise trend of sex ratio, 1901-71.

AGE STRUCTURE- Significance; Method; Regional Variation in Age structure; Distribution of proportion of Broad age Groups- Children, old person and Adults; Youthfulness of the population- A New Approach.

LITERACY- Spatial Pattern of Literacy; Literacy and Size of Towns; Male-Female differential in literacy; Historical Factors and the Variation in Literacy.

ECONOMIC COMPOSITION OF LABOUR FORCE- Significance; Work Participation, Economic composition of labour and the size of towns.
CHAPTER IX.

URBAN SYSTEM OF MALWA: URBAN HIERARCHY AND SPATIAL STRUCTURE

Introduction—An holistic Approach; Central Place Theory in Retrospect; Attributes of a Central Place System; Lacunae in the Central Place Theory; Rank Size Relationship; A Parallel Approach; Defining an Urban Hierarchy Assessment of Methodological problems, A Survey of Methods of Hierarchal Ranking, The Present method of Town ranking: Key Criteria—Selected Central Services, weighting the central Services; Results of the analysis; Composite Centrality Index: A Combination of Key Criteria; Structure of composite Index and the size of Towns; Nodal Regions of Malwa: Bus Service Hinterland Definition; Regional Taxonomy of Malwa: Urban system of Malwa—some operational and structural differences.
