

Acknowledgements

A great number of distinguished personalities, directly or indirectly, have contributed towards shaping this thesis. I take this opportunity of submitting the thesis for expressing my gratitude to them all. Without their kind support, encouragement and love this work would have been impossible.

I thank my thesis advisor Dr. R. Srikanth for guiding me to this point. He has been a great teacher, guide and friend for me. He was always patient towards my questions, even if they were silly, during discussions and answered them with a great degree of lucidity. I am grateful to him for introducing me to Poornaprajna Institute of Scientific Research (PPISR) and providing me with an opportunity to be a part in his Department of Science and Technology (DST) sponsored project.

I am very much grateful to Dr. A. B. Halgeri, Director, PPISR for accepting me to be a member of the institute and pursue doctoral studies. I am a beneficiary of his advice, support and encouragement throughout my tenure at PPISR. I acknowledge Dr. K. Srihari (Hon. Secretary, AMEC and AMEF) for his kind support.

I am also grateful to Dr. Sujit Sarkar, PPISR for making valuable suggestions during discussions and his teaching during my early days of joining the institute. I thank my group member and junior Shri. S. Aravinda for his company, discussions on various subjects, sharing information about various things (also other than science), during my stay at PPISR, Bidlur campus.

I thank my collaborators and coauthors Dr. Subhashish Banerjee, IIT Rajasthan, Jodhpur and Dr. Anirban Pathak, IIIT, Noida for being part of my research work. I have particularly learnt much from Dr. Subhashish Banerjee, and his guidance has benefited me. I am also thankful to him for his hospitality during my visits to IIT Rajasthan. I also thank my coauthor Shri. N. Srinatha for making me a part of his work.

I gratefully acknowledge the support of Adamar Mutt Education Council and its chairman Paramapoojya Shri Vishwapriya Teertha Swamiji for providing an opportunity and fellowship to carry out the research work. I greatly admire Paramapoojya Vibudhesha Teertha Swamiji, Founder, PPISR for his passion towards science, which lead to inception of PPISR. DST is greatly acknowledged for providing the fellowship under the project numbered : SR/S2/LOP-02/2012. I also acknowledge Manipal University, Manipal for accepting my candidature for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

I express gratitude to the subject experts of my Doctoral Advisory Committee (DAC),

1. Prof. N. Kumar, Emeritus Professor,
Raman Research Institute, Bangalore
2. Dr. A. R. Usha Devi,
Physics Department, Bangalore University, Bangalore
3. Dr. B. S. Ramachandra, Director,
Center for Fundamental Studies and Creative Education, Bangalore

They attended DAC meetings every six months to review my progress and made valuable suggestions. Dr. A. R. Usha Devi has been my teacher for very long since my Masters degree in physics at Bangalore University, Bengaluru. I thank them all. I am also grateful to Ph.D program coordinator Dr. Ananda, PPISR for overseeing the relation between PPISR and Manipal University. He has also been very friendly and generous towards me during my stay at PPISR.

I am beneficiary of discussions on scientific topics with my friends Balaji, Karthik, Ranjit, Prabhu Tej, Akshata and Raghunath. I am grateful to all of them. Discussions on various topics with institute mates Shwetha. S. M, Janardan H. L, Vijay Kumar, Dr. Raghuram Hegde, Shwetha B. V, Pradeepa, Shwetha L, Manjunathan, Chandan and Dr. Sowmya have added significantly to knowledge. I am thankful to all of them for making my thought process better. I am thankful to Dr. Ramagopal, PPISR and Dr. Nalini G. Sundaram, PPISR for their encouragement and support. I also thank Dr. Ganapati Shanubhag, PPISR and Dr. Sanjeev Maradur, PPISR for making our stay lively on PPISR, Bidalur campus. I also thank Dr. Raghu for his support.

I express gratitude to Shri. P. Sreenivasa Rao, Finacial Advisor, PPISR for his advice and support. I am grateful to PPISR office staff members Shri. Kishore L. Gaikwad, Smt. Latha Srinivasan, and Shri. Nagarajan, for their support in various forms. I also thank PPISR support staff members Shri. Praveen Kumar, Shri. Akhilesh Sawant, Shri Subramanya, Shri. Vishwaprakash, cooks Shri. Shashidhara and Shri. S. Jagadeesha, Mrs. Nagamma, Mrs. Akkamma.

I thank Prof. B. A. Kagli, Prof. Sharat Anantamurthy, Dr. Sarbari Bhattacharya, Prof. K. Rukmini, Prof. R. Damle and other faculty members at the Physics department, Bangalore University, Bengaluru for their valuable teaching during Masters degree. I am grateful to Prof. A. K. Pati, HRI, Allahabad for guiding my summer project at IOP, Bhuvaneshwar in the year 2008. I also thank my teachers Shri. Mohan Kumar, Shri. K. Srinivasan, Shri. Madhusudan and Shri. A. Q. Farooqui at Government First Grade College, K R Puram, Bengaluru. I am grateful to my childhood teachers Acharya Venugopal, Acharya Pracheta, Jyothi Bhagini, Acharya Krishna Bhat, Acharya Rishidev, Shri. Nagabushan and Shri. Bhattaracharya at Om Shantidhama Gurukul.

I would be pleased to mention few of my friends, whose company has always encouraged and suggested me. The company of wonderful personalities like Nagendra Pavana, Muralikrishna Bhat, Anupam Arya, Shri Divyajnanananda Giri Swamiji and Kiran, who are also my childhood friends, has enriched my life. At the Physics department, Bangalore university Praveen, Naveen, Srinatha, Tejaswi, Ramesh, Lawrence, Ramdeep, and many more have added value to my life. I also remember Praveen, Raghavendra, Shankar, Kiran, Vineshkar for their company at First Grade College, K R Puram. I thank my friend Santosh for his advice on purchasing electronic equipments which were useful for research. I thank my cousins Vadiraja, Prabhanjana, Jayatheertha, Suhasini, Ravi, Raghavendra and Pramoda for their suggestions on various matters.

Words fall short of feelings for expressing gratitude to my parents. I am grateful to them, my sister Dr. Amrutha, brothers Gopinath and Shripada for their unconditional love and support throughout my life. I am thankful to Shwetha for her care, encouragement and support. I am also grateful to Doddmmas, Doddappas, Chikkamma, Chikkappa, Mamas and Attes for taking care of me at various stages of my life.
