

Acknowledgements

Pursuing PhD in science was a big challenge and a dream for me. With this dream I joined NCCS in July 2006 and started an adventurous journey called PhD. Sometimes felt so lonely, sometimes I really wondered if I will make it to the completion. Now on the verge of completion, I look back and see that I am going to achieve a milestone in my professional career. I could not have succeeded without the selfless and priceless support of many people both from the scientific community and outside of the academic environment. Without these cliques, I may not have gotten to where I am today. To all of you, being close and far I am endlessly thankful.

At the outset I am deeply grateful to my mentor, my guru and research supervisor Dr. Jomon Joseph for his immense support since the very first day I joined his Lab. It is his highness that he accepted a mediocre student like me as his disciple. You have been a sturdy influence throughout my Ph.D. career. Indeed your high scientific standards, far sightedness, metallic attitude, amicable approach to solve compelling research problems lay down an excellent example. For me you have been an incredible guide, always encouraging me to explore, imagine and experience. Sir, thank you so much for keeping faith in my abilities and supporting me in all the possible ways throughout my work. Thank you very much sir for tolerating my many mistakes and allowing me to work in laboratory round the clock. I have also learnt how to be disciplined and punctual in life from you. I will always miss the morning session of my work and our discussions.

I wish to express my heartfelt regards with deep sense of reverence and gratitude to Dr. Vasudevan Shesadri. I owe him lots of appreciation for his outstanding scientific vision, huge knowledge and experience in all the fields of science. Thank you sir for making interesting things much more interesting in our Journal club meetings. I appreciate your logical explanations and troubleshooting part during our Journal club meetings, which guided me throughout this tenure of work.

I am also greatly indebted to Padamshree Dr. G.C. Mishra, Ex-Director NCCS, for allowing me to carry out my work at one of most esteemed research laboratory in the country with amazing infrastructure and congenial atmosphere.

I am immensely rejoiced to owe my deep sense of gratitude to the Dr. Arvind Kumar Sahu for allowing me to use his lab facilities and to carry out the Nickel and β -catenin binding assay with Biacore.

I am very much thankful to my Lab senior Prayag, for his timely help and teaching me the various techniques of the lab during my initial days.

I would like to thank my lab members Pankhuri, Pabitra, Pravin, Manas, Santosh, Swati, Deepak, Aditi, for their timely help, supportive attitude and above all full time cooperation without any glitch. I must thank Aparna ma'm for her assistance and support in providing the cell lines and medium in time. I would also like to thank my lab trainees Fatema, Ganesh, Amol, Hina, Prajakta for their help in experiments.

I am also thankful to the members from Dr. Sahu group Vivek, Kalyani, Malik, Muzammil, Yogesh ji, Archana ma'm, Ashish, Sunil, Avneesh, Ajit, Jeetendra, Vibha, Priyanka and Hemendra. I am thankful to Kalyani for helping me in SPR studies. I especially thank Kalyani, Vivek and Muzammil for prompt assistance and personal care.

I am also thankful to Dr. Vasudevan Seshadri group members Arti ma'm, Bhaskr, Bhavana, Amresh, Shardul, Arya, Poonam, Prachi, Abdul and Vishal for their constant support, help and suggestions.

I would like to extend my thanks to the Dr Yogesh Souche and Mr. Girish Kulkarni for providing timely DNA sequences.

I wish to thank Dr. Sanjeev Galande and Dr. Milind Patole for consenting to be members of my registration and synopsis committee and for helpful suggestions.

I would like to thank Dr. Bankar of experimental animal facility for teaching the handling and blood collection from the naughty rabbits. Special thanks to lab 5 members, Raki, Syam (Dada), Surya, Himanshu, Satish, Ankita for their continuous support and encouragement.

I wish to thank Bheemashankr and Pawar sir for the prompt supply of cell lines and medium in urgency.

I express my thanks to Ranveer, Deepak, Kalyani for helping and encouraging me during my thesis writing.

My heartfelt thanks go to the people at the library facility, Mr. Nema, Mrs. Panse and Mr. Randive, Mr. Rahul who have always extended a helping hand whenever I had asked for. I would like to thank Mr. Nema for his kind help in providing literature and books from the library.

I am grateful to people in all the core facilities of the Institute including Cell repository, Library, Computer section, Confocal, Washing section, Academic cell, Stores and Purchase, Administration, Instrument and maintenance, and Lab boys for their assistance whenever required. I extend my sincere thanks to Mr. Sindagi for always keeping all the instruments in the lab in working condition.

I think my words will not substantiate how I am indebted to Rupesh for his constant support and encouragement over the years. I always discuss my personal and professional problems and moreover my frustrations with him. Without you this journey would have been really difficult.

I would like to thank my contemporaries, my batch mates in NCCS Kamal, Sunita, Vikas, Sweta, Shakti, Aanchal, Kiran, Mumtaz, Santosh(Lab1).

I would like to thank the NCCS senior pros like Sreekumar, Prabhat, Dimple, Vinit (Lab1), Raghu, Sunil, Surjeet, Santosh(Lab2), Priyanka(lab1), Sandeep(Lab7) for their timely help. I really appreciate the juniors, Avtar, Brijesh, Shivendra, Santosh (Lab6), Prmanand, Balkrisna, Sunil (Lab3), Aswin, Naoshad, Anil, Ekansh and Sapna for their love, warmth and respect.

I have had such a great contentment to have many wonderful friends, seniors and juniors, who have supported and understood me and, above all accepted me the way I am. They really deserve special thanks Syam, Antony, Sijo, Vinit, Sandeep, and Deepak. Without these cohorts this journey would have been tough. They made my stay in NCCS a memorable one. Thanks guys once again.

I would like to take this opportunity to thanks my MKU seniors, Neetu (lab5) and Amresh Ranjan (lab12) for their cordial behavior and immense support throughout my Ph.D.

Before I finish I would like to thank my whole family in gratitude for their love and support. My uncle played a special role in shaping my career. Any credit for an accomplishment of mine is entirely his. I would like to thank my Uncle Mr. B.M tripathi for his unconditional love, support and encouragement to pursue my interests. My sisters and brothers (Shalini, Jyoti, Tripuresh, Divyansh) always took off my pains and frustrations whenever I talked to them.

My heartfelt thanks to my grandparents whose endless love encouraged me a lot.

I am sincerely thankful to my father, and also my mother whose inspiration has brought me here and allowed to reach my initial goal in my life, also my sisters and brother-in-law for their affectionate and unconditional support. I am feeling short of words in expressing my deep sense of gratitude to my beloved parents whose fruitful blessings and wishes always made me more efficient and determined in accomplishing my aspirations and achieving my goals.

I duly acknowledge the financial support in the form of research fellowship from DBT.

Thanks all over again.

Mukesh Mani Tripathi