

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It has been my privilege to carry out this study under the valuable guidance of Prof. L. Jayasree, Dean and Head of the Department of Law, Acharya Nagarjuna University. I am indebted to her for her valuable supervision, guidance at every stage of my work. She provided constant support by giving me a lot of time for frequent consultations and shown patience in going through the draft.

I should thank Prof. Y. P. Ramasubbaiah for his constant encouragement in the completion of this work.

I am thankful to Principal, Prof. G. Prasad, University College of Arts, Commerce & Law, Acharya Nagarjuna University and also staff of the Dept. of Law, Acharya Nagarjuna University for their support.

I am thankful to our college principal Dr. C.S.S. Prasad, Pendekanti Law College, Hyderabad, and ex-principal Prof. G.Manohar Rao for their encouragement. I also express my thanks to Mr. Y. Dasaratha and Smt. G.Vasavi, our Librarians, Mr. Krishna our ex-college computer lab in-charge and Mr. G.Vijay Bhaskar our computer lab in-charge and also our college teaching and non-teaching staff for their co-operation in completing thesis.

I would like to thank to my wife Smt. Nanda Nagamani and my son Nanda Surya Sai Shankar and my daughter Nanda Sravya for their co-operation in not disturbing me while iam busy with my work.

Finally I thank all those who gave their support in completion of the thesis.